HOSPITAL SEEN AS AN IDEAL HEALTH PLANT

Work Of Dr. H. O. Cleland Reflected In Fine Manner

INSTITUTION PRAISED

Recent Improvements With Reduced Cost, A Transformation

(By Fred Loring)

About 60 years ago the supervisors purchased the 125-acre ranch just north of Ukiah for a county farm and hospital for the care of the indigent. Like most things it had a small beginning, but now the buildings and farm are worth at least $50,000 and in case of a fire the structures, alone, could not be replaced for less than twice that amount.

In Good Condition.

Most of the buildings are at least 50 years old but they were well built in the beginning and during the past few years they have been gradually modernized and painted until now no one would suspect their age unless they were told.

Ideally Equipped.

What used to be known as the Mankins house has been made over into the county hospital and it is a credit to both the county and the management for it has most of the modern hospital innovations. The men's ward has 14 beds upstairs and the same number downstairs, in addition to which there are 10 private rooms, five of which are for paid patients and five for indigents. Each of the beds is the regulation hospital style that are in use in all hospitals and there is an abundance of clean linen, towels and other accessories piled up neatly in the lockers that were built for that purpose. There are several rest rooms and baths for those of the patients who are able to wait on themselves. The female ward is at the far end of the building and has accommodations for 10 persons.

The Operating Room.

The operating room occupies a space between the male and fe-

STORE GROWTH IS APPARENT

Montgomery Ward's Is Big Asset To This Community

The sixty-seventh anniversary of Montgomery Ward & Company was observed here last week by Manager Walter Messick putting on one of the largest sales in the history of the local institution. The Ukiah branch store of this corporation was opened in Ukiah in June, 1928, and Mr. Messick has been manager the past 10 years. He has seen the business double during this period and it is still growing.

Delivers Anywhere.

Montgomery Ward's mail order business has reached large proportions and the firm makes delivery of goods all over Mendocino and Lake counties.

An Old-Timer.

The company was founded in Chicago, August 30, 1872, by Montgomery Ward on an original investment of $2400. The concern now operates 600 stores throughout the country, has 36,000 employes and did a $432,000,000 business in 1937. The Ukiah store employs a force of 22 people.

SON IS BORN TO N. W. HOFMANS

Announcements are being received of the arrival of a son to Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Hofman of this city. The newcomer was born at East Oakland hospital, tipped the scales at eight pounds two ounces at birth, and has been given the name of Jack Weldon Hofman. He was born August 29,a day after the fourth birthday of his sister, Dorene. Mrs. Hofman has been staying with her parents in the east bay the last month and will return the latter part of September with the two children. Mr. Hofman is manager of the local Shell Oil branch on South State street.

HAVE ENGAGED RODEO "TOPS" FOR BIG SHOW

Bennett Stadium Will Bring Best There Is To The Arena

FAMOUS STARS HIRED

Racing Will Prove A Big Attraction To Horsemen

One hundred per cent backing of Ukiah Round-Up by local business firms is evidenced by the fact all certificates issued by Twenty-Thirtians, sponsors, have been sold and no more are available. The sale of the certificates completes the first phase of the Round-Up plans and shows enthusiasm of the public which would seem to promise a most successful community celebration. The Rodeo will take place at the stadium of "Doc" Bennett, under whose management the program will take place September 30 and October 1.

To Have "Preview."

Plans are now being completed for a series of four amateur nights as a prelude to the opening. The first of these will come Saturday, September 9 at 7 p. m. in courthouse square, and successive Saturdays at the same time and place will be scheduled the rest of the amateur tryouts, the winners to compete in a grand finale the evening of September 30, between the two days of the Round-Up. These performances are open to all who want to compete and who make out their entry blanks at the Chamber of Commerce, with Ronald Bowers or with Forrest Hughes.

To Have A Sweetheart.

Another contest will be that for "Sweetheart of the Round-Up," who will be chosen on her ability to ride a horse, her appearance, costume and mount; in other words, she must be a real cowgirl and an attractive one. Applicants are requested to file their names at the same places as entries taken for the amateur contests, and this should be done immediately.

Fine Mounts Secured.

Some of the finest bucking horses in the state will be ridden, at least for a moment or so, as due to the good fortune in the date of the Round-Up, when there will be no counter-attractions of the same type, the best lot of rodeo horses will be available.

Best Talent Contacted.

Gene Kennedy, starter at Tanforan, Bay Meadows and Santa Anita, was here last week and has agreed to act as starter. Mr. Kennedy says the track is in fine shape.

Jack Millerick, of the Millerick Ranch, famed as tops in Rodeo matters, has agreed to furnish his best horses for the events.

"Cuff" Burrell, of Hanford, is coming with strings of relay and Pony Express horses.

Fast Track Features.

Manager Bennett announces there will be numerous high-class events and that horse fanciers will be surprised at the offerings they will be provided at the Rodeo.

WATERMELONS BETTER THERE

Potter Valley Famous For Quality Of Product

Potter Valley has had the reputation of raising the largest and finest quality watermelons grown anywhere ever since the first white people settled in Mendocino county. Watermelons are about three weeks later than usual this year and last week the first of these famous melons were brought to Ukiah and sold to the Safeway Store.

Sell On Merit.

In the show window of that store in one pile are some of the unsurpassed Potter Valley melons with the caption, one cent and a half a pound posted above them and at the far end is another pile of common watermelons with the sign one cent a pound. There is no false representation but strange to relate the Potter Valley melons sell faster than the other ones do.

TAKE 'EM OFF

Removal of obstructing non-transparent stickers on windshields, side wings, side and rear windows of automobiles, is to be asked of all motorists by officers of the California Highway Patrol in an effort to eliminate accidents caused by them. In a bulletin to all Traffic Officers of the Patrol, Chief E. Raymond Cato called attention to the fact many motorists returning from country-wide tours are endangering the lives of themselves and others by the use of numerous stickers applied by hotels, parks and other places visited.

'SLIM' SMITH IN NEW ROLE

Local Businessman Is To Operate 'Samoa' On Other Lines

A. A. "Slim" Smith has taken over The Samoa Cafe on Standley street opposite the side entrance to the courthouse. Mr. Smith has dispensed with professional entertainers and the place will be conducted along strictly business lines and he will cater to the family trade.

Ideal For Club Meetings.

Of course Mr. Smith still has the piano and dance floor and private parties can go there and furnish their own entertainment. The bar will be operated the same as bars in all first-class places are conducted and nothing objectionable will be tolerated.

The Best Beverages.

Brands of the choicest liquors have been stocked and men and women wishing refined service, purest beverages and up-to-the-minute service may obtain them at the new Samoa Cafe.

To Retain Barber Shop.

Mr. Smith has lived in Ukiah 20 years and has a large following of friends who will wish him well in his new undertaking. He has still retained the ownership of the barber shop he has operated many years.

HOP PICKING SEEN ENDING

Round Valley Crews Complete Work The Present Week

Special Correspondence of The Press

COVELO, Sept. 5.—Today the hop market is up and hops on the Round Valley Land Company ranch are good this year—a heavy yield to the acre. Due to the prorate plan 30 acres were eliminated last fall. One hundred and fifty pickers have finished two weeks of picking. Not like the olden days when Whites and Indians moved to the camping grounds and every night a "grass game," bonfires and social gatherings, for now they travel back and forth via omnibus.

Needed More Help.

This week should conclude the picking. Fifty or 100 more pickers could be used; 1¼ cents is being paid with a 25 cent bonus for those finishing the season.

Goes To Arctic.

The Ukiah Republican Press goes to Nome, Alaska, each week to Lester Long, sent by his mother, Mrs. Henry Long. When Lester finishes with the county news he forwards the paper into the mining district where another local boy, Sterling Montague, devours the contents. Lester is putting in his second season in the far north, in highway camp 30 miles from Nome. He has been in charge of a crew of men and handles the bulldozer. He is also camp barber and electrician. Recently the n a purchased a radio which is proving the most popular entertainment imaginable in that wilderness. Lester wrote home on one of the warm days of the year, 108 degrees, but the following day it was raining.

To Retain It.

It is good to see and know the antiquated stake-and-rider fence on the Rohrbough ranch will remain, a monument of long ago—the handsome and attractive old moss-covered fence along the main highway has been restored to good condition.

MARRIED IN NEVADA

Logan Anker and Annabelle Young, both of Willits, were married at Reno, Nevada ,Monday. Just why this popular young couple should go to Reno to be married is a mystery for their parents and friends were all agreeable to the match which they knew was in the offing. However, their Willits friends will probably give them a noisy and joyous welcome on their return.

Special Correspondence of The Press

WILLITS, Sept. 5.—A number of ranches have changed hands in the Sherwood and Long Valley sections recently. Claude Moore sold his 2800-acre sheep ranch with most of the live stock and implements, to Lawrence Anderson, of Oakland, who has already taken possession. Mr. and Mrs. Moore have not yet fully decided where they will locate but it will probably be near Modesto where their daughters live.

Some Other Sales.

Other large transfers were the Pettey and Hardin ranches and this makes a solid block that extends from Sherwood Valley to Outlet creek in one direction and to Long Valley in the other. Most of the new owners are said to be men of means who intend to carry their blooded stock and also make extensive improvements on their holdings.

Was Slowed Down.

Willits draws the line on drivers who try to make Main street a race course. Last week Officer Will Bergson arrested Alfred Johns, 17, of Portland, and charged him with going at the rate of 70 miles an hour through town. For an excuse Mr. Johns told him he was in a hurry to get home. Judge A. M. Sacry fined the lad $30 for being in a hurry.

Both Were Fined.

Robert O'Brien, of Southgate, was fined $2.50 by Judge C. A.

DICK MAZZONI SELLS STORES

A sale of the Ukiah, Fort Bragg and Lakeport Redwood Auto Supply Co. stores to The Crown Machine Works, of Santa Rosa, is announced by R. F. Mazzoni. Mr. Mazzoni opened his first store here eight years ago and has since branched out. It is understood Mr. Mazzoni is to remain as manager for the new concern and will retain the employes now with him. Mr. Mazzoni has made a complete success of his business and many friends in the three cities he has been operating in.

THE 'CHOLERA' IS EXPLAINED

A wild story has been sent city papers cholera is raging in the Ukiah valley, Russian river is polluted and the city of Ukiah is liable. The real facts are an Indian baby, nine months old, died last week. The cause of the baby's death, probably is cholera infantum. Usually the native men and women employed in the hop fields leave their youngsters in camp where they go to work. The children get into vineyards and eat unripe grapes, gather pears which have been sprayed and have not ripened, eat green prunes and unripe field corn and naturally bring on the worst kinds of stomach trouble. The fact the baby that died was nine months old precludes it having drank any considerable amount of polluted water. Rather the belief is older children allowed it to eat of the unripe fruit, grapes and corn.

WRECK FACTS ARE OBSCURE

Companions Sleeping —Traffic Office In Peculiar Role

Hale McCowen, emloyed in a local gas station ,and son of Hale McCowen, Jr., a Ukiah attorney, was taken to Ukiah General Hospital following the wrecking of the car in which he and two other youths were riding near Hopland about four o'clock in the morning yesterday. Mr. McCowan was rendered unconscious and did not regain consciousness until seven hours afterward. Dr. H. O. Cleland says Mr. McCowen was not seriously injured. The two other young fellows in the car, who escaped injury, claim they were asleep. The party had been at Russian river, Sonoma county, resorts throughout the night. Details could not be obtained at the Traffic office, The Republican Press, at the Traffic office, being referred for information to Hale McCowen, Jr., father of the boy—Mr. McCowen, of course, was not present at the wreck.

REDDING MAN BUYS A CAFE

The Forks Restaurant Will Be Operated By Northerner

Saturday sale of The Forks Cafe, three miles north of town, was made by A. L. Story to Tell J. Hite, experienced restaurateur from Redding, who has also operated eating places in several of the western states besides California.

Local Firm Sold It.

The deal was transacted through the Waldteufel Company, Mr. Hite taking over the business, furniture, fixtures and equipment at the admirably located Forks Cafe.

Forced To Sell.

Mr. and Mrs. Story came from Lake county last spring after buying the cafe, but due to the ill health of Mrs. Story are now forced to give up the business. Mrs. Story left last week for Point Arena where she will take a complete rest several months, and Mr. Story has returned to his work for the state as highway equipment operator.

GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE EARNING $2,000 A DAY AT THIS TIME

That the Golden Gate bridge is destined to be an outstanding financial success is attested by the report of Auditor Roy West for the month just passed, a report which shows an average daily income of approximately $2000 over budgeted requirements. Two years and two months beyond the opening of the bridge to traffic, the span is earning a profit of $2000 per day to be applied to bonds' retirement, the $7,562.42 average daily revenue grossing $234,435.09 for the month. This near-quarter of a million dollars was contributed by 409,636 automobiles, 3,008 autos and trailers, 1027 motorcycles, 4735 busses and 30,608 trucks. In addition bus passengers number 101,005, extra passengers 58,703 and pedestrians 4293. Non-revenue vehicles using the bridge on government-issued passes held up to the monthly average—a gross of 17,177. There were also honored in August, 68,607 commute tickets, an all-time high for that class of traffic. As usual Sundays brought the peak travel, with August 20 the red-letter day of the month, when 25,342 vehicles used the span.

ANNA PRAGER-GAMBREL HAS WED CITY MAN

Ukiah Sheepman's Widow Is Bride Of A San Franciscan

IS VISITING IN VALLEY

Spouse Is Connected With Theatre On The Bay

Special Correspondence of The Press

POTTER VALLEY, Sept. 5.—M. C. "Kit" Briggs, 66, died in San Francisco, Saturday, following an operation. Born in Potter Valley he had lived his entire life in that section and commenced handling livestock when he was a mere boy. He fololwed that occupation all his days and was a great lover of outdoor life.

Knew His Business.

He had the reputation of being one of the best stockmen in this part of the state and was a great hunter. He came naturally by this for the famous Scout, Kit Carson, was a relative and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Briggs, were pioneer settlers of Mendocino county, having crossed the plains with an ox team. In early days they settled in Potter Valley on what is still known as the Briggs ranch and this had always been his home, with the exception of some years he managed a stock ranch near Hearst now owned by Lewis Folsom. Mr. Briggs was a member of one of Potter Valley's oldest families, being related to the Potter family from which the valley got its name.

Those Who Survive.

He is survived by a son and daughter: Mrs. Rose Bucknell of Covelo and Rodney Briggs of Potter Valley. His sister, Mrs. John Elstun lives in San Francisco and a brother, Charles Briggs, resides in Oakland. The late Noonie Boulon, of Vallejo, and Mrs. Jennie Matthews, of Ukiah, were his brother and sister. Will Briggs, of Ukiah, is a cousin and there are numerous other relatives living in this county and elsewhere.

Was Buried Here.

The funeral services were held at the Eversole Mortuary yesterday afternoon, Rev. Mark Pike officiating. Interment took place in the Ukiah cemetery beside the loved ones who have passed on before. The pallbearers were F. Vann, Henry Sweeney, Joe Adams, Robert Vaughn, Charles Whitaker, Bert Whitaker.

Mrs. Taylor Eddie has taken her sister, Mrs. Olive Crittenden, to San Francisco for medical attention. Mrs. Crittenden was taken ill while visiting her sister here and has been at Ukiah General Hospital the past two wekes.

COAST FOLKS GET A BREAK

Supervisor Halliday Removes Road Barrier To Travel

Supervisor J. H. Halliday has made arrangements to start work at once on a change in the Anderson Valley-Manchester road. The new road will only be about two miles in length but the important feature is it will do away with one of the steepest grades in the county. When this road was built traffic went over a hill instead of around it and the extra distance by the new survey is only about a quarter of a mile longer. Where the old road goes over the mountain there is a 20 per cent grade and the steepest place on the new grade is only a trifle over six per cent.

Feared To Use It.

On account of the old road being so steep most people living in the Point Arena section went up the Coast highway to the Navarro when coming to Ukiah, although this road is about 25 miles longer. When finished the new road will take most of this travel and it will make a considerable saving in time.

Not Costly Job.

County Surveyor Ed Smith completed the survey for this new stretch of road a few days ago and he states it will not be a difficult or expensive piece of road to build.

SEEKS SEPARATION

Nancy C. Scholl has filed a suit for divorce against Thomas Scholl in Reno and for grounds charges cruelty. Both are well known residents of Ukiah.

HAD PLANNED BANK ROBBERY

Parole Officer Given Tip A Willits Job Was Intended

George Bowen, deputy state parole officer, through use of good judgment has undoubtedly forestalled a Willits bank robbery.

Four In Plot.

While checking paroled men Deputy Bowen got information which showed three men living in the northern part of the county had been trying to induce the parolee to join them in robbing the Bank of Willits. The older man in the party is said to own a car and, according to the story of the parolee, had guns to be used in the robbery.

What Scheme Was.

The parolee alleged the plan was to go to the home of the manager of the bank and take him to the vault and compel him to open it. The man who talked insisted he told the three men he would not be a party to the robbery and sticks to his story while the men implicated by the parolee insist they know nothing about it. In the meantime, however, the manager of the bank has been acquainted with the story and the bank is properly protected.

"FAVORITISM" CHARGE MADE

Olson Chief Asserts Ingels Caused Cal. Large Losses

The Sacramento Bee carries this story: "State Director of Public Works Frank W. Clark today charged the state government 'has been mulcted of many thousands of dollars' because of favoritism shown to certain trucking interests by former State Director of Motor Vehicles Ray Ingels.

What Is Alleged.

"Mr. Clark, who is acting head of the Motor Vehicle Department, declared that in the collection of unladen weight fees on commercial vehicles under Ingels 'politics not only affected, but in many instances, controlled the policy of the department of motor vehicles.'

Nets Large Sum.

"Mr. Clark today issued an order instructing department employes to enforce the unladen weight fee law with penalties to its full extent and announced that, in Los Angeles, a crew of five men has been collecting an average of $200 per day in fees and penalties."

QUEER FIRES ARE REPORTED

Burnings West Of Ukiah Indicate 20 Were Man Made

Fires in the Low Gap section over the weekend point to incendiary origin, possibly by hunters driving deer from their hideouts. First indication of a blaze was discovered near the Evans place on the Low Gap road at 8:30 a. m., Saturday, not far from the southwest boundary of the Mann ranch, when sighted from the Forest Service lookout. A series of over 20 fires, short distances apart and lighted at 15-minute intervals, occurred early in the afternoon and were noted from the Mann house as they sprung up on the west boundary of the ranch, four miles distant.

No Range Lost.

Only heavy timber and brush were burned leaving feed unharmed for stock. Three forest service crews had the fire under control in a short time. Three more fires were noted in the Daugherty creek section aSturday also.

RETIREMENT OF ASYLUM HEAD IS ANNOUNCED

Dr. R. A. Cushman To Quit Talmage Last Of The Month

RUMORS BEING HEARD

Cunningham's Scalp Sought—Rappaport To Be Named

The employes at Talmage have taken up a collection and are buying a present for Dr. R. A. Cushman and on October 1, Dr. Cushman will retire as superintendent of Mendocino State Hospital and he and Mrs. Cushman will take up residence at Cloverdale.

Well Qualified Man.

The state is going to lose an exceptionally competent hospital superintendent and this community an excellent citizen.

A Real Task.

The Talmage post is a tough job, but, for seven years Dr. Cushman has handled it without any serious trouble. Dr. Cuchman is 83 years old and age, only, causes him to retire.

Was Here Before.

In 1910 Dr. Cushman was first at Talmage and resigned to go to Orange county to practice and there he remained until 1932 when he returned to Talmage as superintendent. Dr. Cushman stands at the top of the list as a mental specialist and he has been, for years, called to courts in all parts of California as an alienist. California's medical records record few men at Dr. Cushman's age now practicing.

Long A Doctor.

The retiring head of Talmage was born in Massachusetts and has been practicing 56 years.

Much To Handle.

Talmage has an inmate population of 2800. Its annual upkeep cost is about $700,000 and its monthly payroll exceeds $40,000. The state has an investment there of $4,000,000. Its medical staff consists of eight doctors.

What Reports Are.

Rumor has it Dr. Walter A. Rappaport, who a number of years ago was a victim of a spite grudge and dismissed from Talmage where he was a member of the medical staff, and who is now on the medical board at Napa State Hospital, has been selected to succeed Dr. Cushman. When Dr. Rappaport was forced out he sued the State, the late A. L. Wessels being his attorney, and later on was ordered reinstated and the State was forced to pay Dr. Rappaport some $12,000 salary earned by Dr. Rappaport while he was out of State service illegally.

After His Scalp.

Coincident with retirement of Dr. Cushman comes the story another replacement will occur at Talmage and that a new business manager will be named. The Democrats contend E. L. Cunningham's civil service standing is not well established and a number of the faithful are after that job. Mr. Cunningham was a supporter of Governor F. F. Merriam in the last election, although, before he got his Talmage job, Mr. Cunningham had been a Democrat.

VACCINATION SAVES HORSES

Sleeping Sickness Is Disappearing Here, Reports Show

Vetermarian E. C. Morris reports the sleeping sickness epidemic among horses as now being almost stamped out, due to so many horse owners having their animals vaccinated. Last week Joe Villanova, Redwood Valley rancher, lost a valuable 15-month-old colt.

Saved The Mare.

A three-year-old mare belonging to the Indian Service at Upper Lake contracted the disease but the prompt injection of serum saved her after being sick only four days.

Report Incorrect.

Several weeks ago it was reported a valuable saddle horse belonging to F. W. Hammond had died but this was premature for it was given the serum treatment and has made complete recovery.

DO YOU WANT THIS?

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA CITIZENS Against 30-Thursday have compiled figures showing it would take approximately $80,000000 more than the total annual payroll in California to make good the promise of promoters of the plan to issue 30 $1.00 warrants a week. The calculation is based on the estimate that 800,000 persons over the age of 50 would be eligible to receive the warrants. It is pointed out, however, there are about 1,500,000 residents of the age requirement. Here are the Committee's figures:

"If 800,000 people were to be paid 30 scrip dollars every Thursday for not working, the yearly total would add up to $1,248,000,000. The entire payroll of the 934,052 gainfully employed persons in the state is $1,169,472,000. Therefore, those who work would have to pay out of their pockets, in the purchase of redemption stamps, cash to the extent of nearly $80,000,000 more than they now earn.

"In other words, to pay 800,000 pensioners $1560 per year each for not working would take the entire payroll in every line of business in California plus $80,000,000.

"That," the statement concludes, "is one of the many reasons why thoughtful citizens realize that the Ham and Eggs plan is simply not workable."

THROW THEM OUT

THE GENERAL PUBLIC must feel like standing up and giving voice to unrestrained cheers for County Director Sam Houston Allen of the State Relief Administration, who announced last night he was removing "professional social workers" as executives in 14 different counties because these professional workers have lost sight of the human element in their relief work. They have been measuring a man's hunger by calipers and the immediate needs of his family by geometrical calculations.—The Santa Rosa Republican.

These university-educated parasites—professional social workers—have been found to be the worst chisclers taxpayers have been forced to support. They not only barge themselves into jobs, but, in hundreds of cases, work overtime to get their incompetent relatives' mouths in the feed bags and, times without number, put their wives on the payroll and have them pose as "Miss," instead of being the big fat mamas they are.

On the relief jobs of the country today we have too many professional social workers dishing out sweet charity in the name of a cold, calculating, statistical Christ!

Too many people, when they need food and medical care, cannot get it because their names did not appear on Form 863-M at the close of the quarter ending June 16 last year, or some time.

The social service workers, Director Allen contends, have taken a viewpoint of "too much psychoanalysis of relief clients," and will be replaced by "persons, mostly men of administrative and executive ability."

Director Allen contended the social worker's viewpoint has resulted in "too much dictatorial attitude toward relief clients and too much reordering their lives to fit a social service worker's pattern as a condition to their being allowed to receive state unemployment aid."

"There has been too much stress on the professional aspects and the common-sense approach to this unemployment relief problem has been in many instances, overlooked," he said. Director Allen added he was well aware he might be "inviting a lot of trouble for myself from the other camp."

But if there is any trouble from "the other camp" Mr. Allen will find hundreds of thousands of real westerners backing him up in one of the most sensible moves ever made in the history of the State Relief Administration.

Where relief is concerned we need more speed and more commonsense. Give the hungry family a square deal before testing the spleen.

AN INTERESTED OBSERVER

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, who is the chairman of State Board of Prisons of California.

IN A ROOM WHERE 267 MEN WERE KILLED

On every one of its 13 steps I saw chip marks on the paint, made by the toes of men's shoes as they, unsteadily, stumbled to their deaths—Two hundred and sixty-seven of them have done so and, probably, two more will and, then, no more men will go up that one-way flight of stairs.

I predict not more than two men will, from now on, die at the top of that gruesome set of steps, because only two men are in the death house who were decreed to die on the gallows before death, by lethal gas, was substituted for the noose in California.

Wednesday I roamed the last night cell where the 267 men passed the dwindling hours of their existence; I stood on the gallows and peered down the trap which all of these unfortunates plunged through to die with broken necks. I studied the three pieces of cord (only one of which leads to the fatal trip that springs the trap) that were cut by three men. Three cords are used so none of the three men hidden in the little closet, ever, really, knew which one of them sprung the release. I lifted the lid to the heavy chest that stands at the side of the wall and I gazed at the black cap—that bit of cloth that had blotted out the last sight of earth for all these men! I studied the belt with the cuffs that had held rigid the wrists of all these victims. I could not help but notice the holes in the leather, that had strapped the legs of the condemned, were gaping and I knew that, by death spasms, this size-increase had been created. I looked long at the "easy chair" the death watch had sat in, just outside the cell of the doom-sealed killers, on those last nights. I could almost hear the music coming from the records of the phonograph the death-awaiting men played throughout their waning hours. On the walls of the death cell there had been written, by condemned men, many edge-of-the-grave messages—walls of the most frightful despair conceivable. A merciful covering of paint has, in most instances, obliterated the tracings of the pencils of the writers who scrawled, with shaking hands, as they stood in the shadow, stories which were not read until they had passed into oblivion. I could only look an instant at the cot on which the poor wretches had tossed through the nightmare hours that ended when their necks were cracked. I went over to the case and peered upon seven ropes, suspended from a ceiling high above me and at the end of which, near the floor, hung great weights—this is a precaution taken to see the stretch is removed from the hemp and the exact drop, even to the inch, is in the rope to make death sure.

I looked over toward condemned row where 17 men are under sentence to be executed.

My eyes reverted to the gibbet.

Then I passed out through the cell block and into the "Garden Beautiful," where some of the loveliest flowers in California grow, where humming birds, in all their freedom whirl about, where canaries sing and fountains flow—from the room of gloom and horror and death to happiness and Heavenly sunshine and life!

Since that day Cain killed Abel a Mosaic law has demanded an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. Men have slain their fellow man and, in turn, society has killed them, but murder has not decreased.

Sometimes I wonder if capital punishment is effective, after all!

"Vengeance is mine," saith the Lord.

A SPORTSMAN WAS TRICKED

Ukiah Deer Hunter's Face Was Not Red—But Crimson

A Ukiah sportsman shamefacedly admitted last week he had been tricked into sending three bullets into the head of a deer, over in Lake county, as the animal cunningly stuck its head from behind a tree and that, upon investigating, he discovered he had been deceived—the animal was a stuffed carcass.

There Are Others.

That the local man was not alone in having his face turn red is indicated by the following which appears in The Clear Lake Observer: "Just as John Adamson and his father, Russell Adamson, out on a deer hunt, passed the old Hendrickson place, Cobb Mountain way, John Adamson spotted a forked-horn peering alertly from behind a tree. There was an entranced, even enthralled, look in the deer's eyes. Mr. Adamson shot quickly, and certainly. The entranced look did not vanish from the buck's peepers. He fired again. Then his father shot. The deer stood mesmerized.

What The———!

"They stalked quietly to the paralyzed brute and then stole softly away.

Came Another.

"Jim Salmina passed later. He shot, quickly and accurately; rubbed his eyes and went dazedly on. Others came and peppered bullets into the buck's head until it was practically bald and riddled like a screen door. Still the deer stared, with one remaining eye, enraptured, into the far places.

What It Was.

"Later some disgruntled one beat the poor animal over the head, which toppled it into the brush. The remains left scattered about are those of a stuffed deer's head which had been affixed to a tree, a barley sack filled with hay answering for a protruding rump."

Bob O'Day, of Hopland, and daughter Pattie were at the Fair today where Pattie is having the time of her life, looking at the wonders everywhere about her.

Fall Days Have Come For Certain

(The Willits News)

Noticeable drops in the daily highway travel through Willits and a decided change in the weather gave every indication summer is just about over for 1939, local businessmen declared this week. Cool winds during the day and cooler weather at night during the past week brought relief from the warm sultry days of a week or so ago and local residents were preparing for brisk fall weather. Tourist travel took a sudden drop as bay region schools opened Monday for the fall term. A flurry of highway travel over the coming Labor Day weekend was being expected by merchants as the final activity of the summer season.

CAMERONS REVISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cameron and son, Charles, formerly of Ukiah, were guests of Mrs. Nanette Hofman several days last week, leaving Friday for their home at San Diego, where Mr. Cameron is with the Board of Equalization. They were delighted to meet many old friends here, and felt the visit would have been complete had Charles Hofman, son of the hostess, been here. He was visiting his uncle at Bellingham, Washington, however, and will not leave there until Friday when he will go to San Francisoc to pass several days with his aunt, Mrs. Gus Bettman, before returning to Ukiah.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dickey, of Potter Valley, were among spectators at the boat races at Lakeport Sunday.

TO COMMENCE WORK SHORTLY

Activity At Andersonia Is Due In A Few Days

Andersonia is at the extreme northern end of Mendocino county and across the South fork of Eel river from Piercy. A submerged concrete bridge will be built across the river for use during low water, mention of which was made in this paper several months ago.

To Use Trucks.

It is proposed to build a mill of 60,000 feet daily capacity and the company owns a large acreage of virgin redwood and fir timber that will last many years. The lumber will be shipped by truck over Redwood Highway.

'FARMERS OF TOMORROW'

Over a thousand California farm boys and girls are gathering this week at the 24th annual encampment of the 4-H Clubs of the State.

Starting in October of 1914, the organization has grown until it can boast of more than 7,000,000 members who have received the benefits of club work. And most of these members have carried on in some field of agriculture, steadily raising the standard of rural living in this country.

It is to the credit of our democracy that farmers, business men, parents and schools all recognize that training good farmers is a wise investment . . . and that over 40 per cent of the country's rural youth is enrolled in the 4-H organization.

SUMMER TRAVEL IS ENCHANTING IN DIVERSITY

The story of 12,000 miles covered by plane, rail, bus and boat in six weeks, as told by Miss Violet Elliott, who has just returned from a tour circling the United States, one replete with numerous sight-seeing experiences, provides a series of descriptive pictures vivid by contrast to one another, about actualities to rival the imagination of a Jules Verne. The first stop was at El Paso, Texas, on the Mexican border. From there an excursion was made to Carlsbad Caverns, most extensive caves ever discovered, and also the best lighted. It boasts, wide, firm paths and an elevator to lift one 750 feet from the underground passages, with lights clicking off 50-foot intervals, during the ascent to the surface, accomplished in 62 seconds. The temperature underground was but 56 degrees, when visited by Miss Elliott, though it was a hot summer day outside. At a limestone pillar known as "The Rock of Ages," all lights were turned off, and in the distance could be heard a men's choir singing the hymn with the same name as the landmark. Slowly the lights came on until at the end of the song the caves were fully illuminated in a most impressive manner.

Miami, Florida, was reached by boat from Galveston. Many delightful tours were enjoyed viewing the elegant residential districts there, the Venetian Pool and Casino. Going by air to Havana, the city was next explored and found very interesting. Within it all distances are measured to "The Diamond," a huge jewel (approximately 22 carats) imbedded in the center of the floor of the Capitol building, and scintillating against a border of black. Our tourist admired the adjacent countryside for its beautiful mahogany trees, its tall, slender royal palms, and native villages. Returning, the best seaplane built for South American travel was taken. In the lobby of the terminal is a huge globe oriented so that its axis parallels that of the east under foot at Miami, and its North Pole points to the North Star; thus in the course of rotation Miami comes to the top of the globe once every two minutes and the observer had opportunity to orient herself with reference to the rest of the world.

New York was reached by boat from Jacksonville, and there the World's Fair was visited as well as other sights for which Gotham is famous. While the Exposition there is much larger than that at San Francisco, the setting of the Fair in the west was deemed quite beyond comparison with it. Sailing from New York to the West Indies, the boat called at San Juan, Porto Rico. The U. S. Army headquarters and Comerio Dam were seen, and a drive along a country road, flanked by pineapple plantations was taken to Treasure Island Camp where luncheon was provided. The mountain scenery was especially beautiful. The next stop was at St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

Barbados was reached by motor launch. At Fort de France, Martinique, cars were waiting to take travelers to Saint Pierre, formerly the chief town of the island. It was destroyed on the morning May 8, 1902, by volcanic eruption of "Le Mont Pelee" when, within a few minutes, thousands of the inhabitants of the city perished by fire and poisonous gases issuing from the fissures and mouth of the volcano. An old thief, locked in a deep dungeon in the prison, was the lone survivor. There are many ruins as only a small quarter of the town has been rebuilt. To get to Saint Pierre the car wound its way between gorges and sometimes traveled up hills clad with a dense vegetation of huge trees, arborescent ferns, giant bamboos and across torrential streams where large rocks could be seen through the limpid waters rushing over them.

Bermuda was interesting in that no automobiles are allowed on the island, all transportation being by bicycle, horse carriage or train. The LiLi Perfume factory was visited and the making of perfume from oleander blossoms watched. Negro children bring the flowers to the factory where they are packed into flat crates, the tops of which are lined with fat which absorbs the scent. Later, by means of alcohol, the scent is extracted from the fat and ambergris is added to prevent too rapid evaporation. At the famous Crystal Caves Miss Elliott marveled at the stalactites and stalagmites, which were the prettiest she had ever seen, their loveliness doubled in a mirrorr of water 50 feet deep. The underground walk was on a pontoon bridge which rose and fell with the tide.

The journey next took the vacationist to Canada. Tours were enjoyed to Montreal and Quebec where the Shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre and many beautiful monuments were seen. A trip up the St. Lawrence River, and at Alexandria Bay, the Two-Nations Tour, which covered the main islands and channels in both American and Canadian waters, presented every changing panoramic views of beauty and charm, and just as the sun was setting in all its splendor the Twilight Tour was made. When the curtain of evening had fallen a powerful searchlight from the boat revealed glimpses of enchanting beauty, and countless twinkling lights from the Thousand Islands made it all seem like fairyland. At Niagara Falls the usual points of interest were viewed: The Three Sisters, joined by suspension bridges reaching out into the midst of the upper rapids, Terrapin Point, American and Canadian Falls, Goat Island and the Cave of the Winds.

In Chicago the shopping and financial district was seen while driving through the Loop. Drives covering Jackson Park, Chicago University, Loyola University, Grant Park and Edgewater beach section gave a general idea of the rest of the city. The Challenger was boarded for the home stretch to the coast, and its exceedingly slow rate of speed going through Carlin, Nevada, hinted dramatically of the recently demolished streamliner, part of which was seen there from the train window.

Miss Elliott, recounting impressions of her trip, states she was surprised to note the great number of people traveling everywhere she went. Invariably they complained of hard times, but all appeared to be amply financed for their trips. The travelers, universally, mentioned President Roosevelt unfavorably and blamed him for unsettled conditions in which the country finds itself.

And now back in Ukiah, Miss Elliott has a fund of new scenes to add to those accumulated in Mexico two years ago, and the Western part of the United States on an earlier trip. With the opening of the fall term, Miss Elliott will resume her duties as teacher of the second grade at Ukiah elementary school.

THE MISSES REDWINE AND HIGGINS WILL TOUR THE EAST

Leaving yesterday from San Francisco on the streamline train "Forty-Niner," to arrive in New York Friday at noon, were Miss Esther Redwine and her close friend, Miss Olive Higgins, who makes her home with her. The cross-country trip is being made with all speed directly to New York to permit as much of the four-weeks tour to be passed in the east as possible. Of course the World's Fair at New York, the frequently pictured sphere and spire of which has become familiar to all, will be seen in reality by the vacationists.

Miss Redwine will remain in New York while Miss Higgins visits her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Higgins at Boston, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Martyn, at Providence, Rhode Island, whom she saw during her last trip east, four years ago. Niagara Falls and Washington, D. C., are scheduled in the itinerary of the two Ukiahans.

During Miss Redwine's absence Miss Della Pauli will be in charge at "Esther's" and will be assisted by Mrs. Catherine Sloper, who has just returned from a three-weeks visit with Mrs. Lulu Johnson at Van Nuys.

RUMMAGE SALE ALL THIS WEEK BY LEAGUE LADIES

Members of the Catholic Ladies League have been "rummaging" through their homes from attic to cellar recently and forthwith have uncovered much in the way of clothing and household articles tucked off in corners for future use. Not having found any particular purpose for them since they were stored away, the ladies have decided to put them on sale where others find some special utility in the variety of items to be sold and at the same time have space-taking storage packages, which clutter closets, converted into funds for benefit work of the League. The mart began yesterday and will continue through the end of the week at the store recently vacated on School street, opposite The Palace Garage. Miss Katherine Gobbi is president of the sponsoring group.

ATTENDED O. E. S. EVENTS

Mrs. Bess Eversole, Deputy Grand Matron of the Ninth District, Order of Eastern Star, returned Thursday from the Bay region where she attended several days' special events honoring officialdom of the order. Eastern Star Day at Treasure Island was the next function, and Mrs. Eversole was in the luncheon group at Yerba Buena Club given by 1933 Matrons. Wednesday evening the War Memorial Opera House, San Francisco, was the scene of a reception to Grand Officers.

FAY HILDRETH'S ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

Engagement of Miss Fay Hildreth to Edward Ernest de Turbiville, Jr., of San Francisco, is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Hildreth, and is of interest to a host of friends in this vicinity. The young lady, who came from the bay city to enjoy the holiday weekend at the family home, is wearing a beautiful diamond, next to which a plain band will be placed at a wedding planned sometime this fall.

The bride-elect is a native of this city, a graduate of the local schools and a popular member of the younger set of this city. Upon completion of her high school course she attended Parker Goddard Secretarial School, Oakland, and at present is with the advertising department of the Bank of America, San Francisco. She is a member of Ukiah Parlor Native Daughters of the Golden West, and a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Ukiah.

Miss Hildreth is the youngest of three exceptionally attractive sisters, the others being Mrs. V. A. Yates and Mrs. Robert Smth, both of Ukiah. Her father is a member of the local constabulary, and her grandfather, the late W. G. Hildreth, was one of the outstanding pioneers of this county. While in San Francisco the young lady stays at the home of her mother's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Fryman. Mr. Fryman accompanied her here for the holiday and enjoyed a hunting trip with Mr. Hildreth over the weekend.

Mr. de Turbiville is a graduate of Roseville elementary and high schools and at present is a pre-legal student in San Francisco where, it is planned, the young couple will make their home following the wedding. The groom-to-be will complete his studies for the bar in the bay city. Felicitations are extended by a host of friends.

From there they plan to go to San Francisco for four days at the Fair before coming back to Ukiah. BROTHERS GO TO U. C.

Tom Cleland, who has entered his senior year at the Unversity of California, is preparing to study law and will probably complete his education at a law school. He has just returned from a summer's training in the naval reserve school at Pensacola, Florida. Will Cleland, his brother, accompanied him to Berkeley and is registered in the university as a freshman. He graduated from the local high school last term with high honors in his studies and was a recognized leader in athletics and other school activities. His present intention is to follow the profession of his father, Dr. H. O. Cleland, by specializing in medicine.

Rodgers who were thrilled with the events. In one instance a boat of the C motor class came within two seconds of breaking the world's class: this was C-2, "Poison," bearing a skull symbol. Gar Wood's championship in the A class also came near to being toppled over.

The weather was delightful during the sojourn on the southern coast.

HIS DUTY HAS NO LET DOWN

Visiting Prison Head Ever Faces Strain—Vacations Few

Mark E. Noon and daughter, Miss Marjorie Noon, after motoring up the coast to Rockport and cutting across to Redwood Highway were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. O'Brien, Sunday evening.

Who He Is.

Mr. Noon is Secretary to the State Board of Prison Directors, with headquarters at San Quentin, and has held that important position many years. Nowhere in the United States is there a man better informed along penological lines than is Mr. Noon.

A Huge Task.

Few people appreciate there are as many prisoners in San Quentin, alone, as there are residents of Ukiah and that it is a real industrial center, having a jute mill, in which 1200 men are employed, a furniture factory, tannery, foundry, laundry, bakery, a great poultry, hog ranch and dairy, one of the finest machine shops in California, a thoroughly equipped electrical shop, upholstery shop, shoe factory, tailoring department and numerous other lines of industry. Schools are conducted there, one of the finest hospitals in the west is operated and hundreds of thousands of dollars in building, all done by inmate labor, is to be seen on the prison reservation.

Need Rest Badly.

In an atmosphere where there is ever a tenseness and where the grind of duty never slackens there is always a tremendous strain on Warden Court Smith and Clerk Noon and, although the Prison Board tries to drive these two efficient officials away from their posts, so they may get a little relief and chance to relax, the time they take off is trifling, too little, in fact, for their own good.

Personal Mention

Francis Sanchez and Albert Ganter went to San Francisco Saturday evening and remained until last night visiting the Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Millard and daughter, Miss Bernice Millard, were in Santa Rosa Saturday.

Mrs. Mark Pike and youngest daughter, Patsy, returned from a visit with friends at Red Bluff the first of the week, Miss Lorraine Pike, another daughter, calling for them.

MILK

Hans Christian Andersen
Was a Danish cobbler's son,
Possessing imagination,
Fairy tales he spun.
Fatherless at eleven,
He went to seek his fame
In the city of Copenhagen—
Nine dollars to his name.
The world preserves his romance,
His fairy tales will live!
Children need good reading,
The best that we can give.
Nourish little bodies,
That mind and soul may glow,
Milk in a proper diet
Produces gains, you know!

male wards and is very well equipped everything considered. The usual methods of sterilizing surgical implements and other precautions for control of bacteria are all observed here.

Protect Motherhood.

Provision has been made for expectant mothers and the women have special rooms for the care of themselves and infants. The baby cases average more than one a month and some months there are several.

Is Air-Conditioned.

This summer an air conditioning system was installed and the temperature is kept constantly at 70 degrees in the day time and 60 at night by automatic control.

Has Ample Help.

The hospital has Mrs. Lizzie Gillie for head nurse. She is assisted by three day nurses, a night nurse and an orderly.

Those Cared For.

The daily attendance at the hospital during the month of July was 72, of which 24 came in and 23 were discharged. This includes both the sick people and elderly people who are able to take care of themselves. Of this number 68 were men and only four were women.

Kitchen Is Busy.

Mrs. Clara Lynch is the head cook and she has several assistants for it is a big job to cook and care for that number of people and in addition to this they furnish the meals for the inmates in the county jail. The kitchen is very well arranged and resembles that of a large restaurant. There are two large ranges and numerous tables upon which vegetables and fruit are prepared for the culinary department is always well supplied with these staples most of which are supplied by the farm. There is a large cooling room in which the meats, milk and other perishables are kept and they use a sufficient quantity of meat to warrant purchasing a whole beef, sheep or hog at one time and this makes a considerable saving. The hospital now bakes all its bread and pastries which under a former management used to cost the county $80 per month. A herd of 12 Holstein cows furnish all of the milk and a part of the butter.

Use Much Fruit.

In order to get some idea how much canned goods are used in a year it might be stated the hospital force cans two tons of pears, two tons of peaches, four tons of apples, three tons of tomatoes, one ton of plums, besides vast quantities of string beans, corn and other vegetables.

Use Fuel Oil.

All of the heating for the various wards and the kitchen is done with fuel oil, which is purchased in large quantities and at a great saving over the old system.

Temperature Watched.

This summer a home-made air conditioning system was installed at a minimum amount of expense. Pipes carry the air all over the premises and during the hottest period this summer when it was more than 100 degrees outside it was only 88 degrees in the kitchen. In the wards it was kept down to 60 and 70 degrees.

Harry Bush is the farmer, carpenter and all around handy man. With the assistance of some of the old men inmates he takes care of the cows, raises a lot of hogs, 125 chickens and also has time to care for a vineyard, raise all of the vegetables they can use and 50 tons of hay to feed the livestock. When he has a little time off he and his crew do the painting and carpentry work.

Willing To Help.

Most of the inmates at the county farm are men past 70 years of age and too old to hold a regular job. These men have been hard workers all their livse and they are not happy unless they have something to do. Of course they cannot do very much hard work and this is not expected but they do derive a lot of pleasure in performing light tasks. Eight of these old men were peeling and quartering pears preparatory to canning the day The Press visited the hospital and almost all of this light kind of work is performed by them.

Are Well Satisfied.

One of the old men, who had worked in the Mendocino woods during his prime, stated he had never received better treatment in his life and that he had plenty of good quality food to eat (better than he used to have) and the sleeping accommodations, reading room and other features were as good as any person had a right to expect.

Do Many Things.

Some of these old men are handy and can assist at painting and rough carpenter work for a few hours at a time while others were raised on a ranch and prefer gardening and tending stock. None of them are required to do this work and they only work a few hours at a time.

Where Praise Is Due.

Dr. H. O. Cleland is the county superintendent and also county health doctor. He supervises all of the work at the hospital and farm and in addition works with Mrs. Margaret Stanley, the county health nurse, who visits all of the schools and a great many homes in the county. For several years every school child in the country has been vaccinated against smallpox and diphtheria and children are given the tuberculin test when this is requested. A generation ago tuberculosis was one of the greatest of scourges and according to authorities there are now only 41 cases in the county but they may not all have been reported. There was not a single case of smallpox last year.

A Well Done Job.

During the past eight years Dr. Cleland has worked hard and Mendocino county now has an institution to be proud of. Of course no person can please everybody but results are what count and any person who is interested can go out to the hospital and see for themselves.

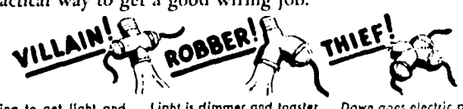
ADEQUATE WIRING for ELECTRILIVING

Here is a practical common sense way to make sure of good wiring in your home. Plan your convenience outlets where they will fit in best with your furniture. Are there enough outlets to serve the lamps, clocks, radios and other electrical appliances we all use in this day of ELECTRILIVING?

Are these outlets in the right places so that you will not have to run long cords along walls? Planning house wiring according to furniture arrangement in each room is the practical way to get a good wiring job.



Trying to get light and operate a washer and iron from a light socket cheats you by causing voltage drop.

Light is dimmer and toaster slower if you do this in your kitchen. This double plug ugly is a robber.

Down goes electric pressure when a three-way plug is used. Causes lights to go dim or blink.

Avoid the make-shift of double and triple plugs in the home you are building or remodeling. Give your electrical contractor an honest chance to do a complete and adequate wiring job. Remember a low price on a wiring job like a low price on most anything is not always the best bargain.

FORE-RUNNER OF DOOM HAS ARRIVED HERE

Hop Picking Machine May Eliminate The Human Workers

DOES EXCELLENT JOB

Equipment Costs $12,000 But Is Rapid, Labor Saver

The hop-picking machine on the Horst ranch is attracting more than ordinary attention for far-sighted people can visualize the day when most of the hand-picking will be done away with. The hop crop ripens all at once and at a time when we can expect to have our first rains. Under the old system there have been times when several thousand people were kept busy several weeks hand-picking hops in this valley and even then, if a big storm broke, some of the hops were ruined. Of late years labor troubles have sometimes broken out and now no rancher knows when the CIO will unionize pickers, intimidate others, and then call a strike at the most critical time.

How It Operates.

The hop-picking machine is installed in a two-story building about 60 feet long and wide in proportion. It can handle 40,000 pounds of hops daily when run to full capacity and to do this requires a force of about 60 hands. To put it another way: The machine can take care of a 100-acre field and the only one of that size now operating in this valley employs a crew of 400 pickers. The Horst ranch has 57 acres in hops and the machine is not being run to full capacity. For efficiency sake there should be two crews working in eight-hour shifts, for the daylight at this season will give plenty of natural light. The machine is said to cost $12,000 and that is a lot of money to be tied up if the output is limited, as the machine never gets tired.

Being Made Better.

Hop-picking machines have now been in use some years and a great many improvements have been made since they were first introduced and the one at the Horst ranch is said to be the latest model. In some ways the machine resembles an old-fashioned threshing machine that used tied bundles and had a man feeding and boys cutting the strings and at the far end had men putting the threshed grain in sacks. Just multiply the proportions of the old machine about 100 times and you have an outline of the new one.

Brought From Vines.

Men in the field cut off the hop vines just above the roots and they are then hauled on trucks to the hop-picking machine. There are two men stationed in front of the machine who attach the stem end of the vines on hooks that then drag the vines over an enormous belt chain that is made of coarse mesh woven wire with the holes large enough for the hops to drop through but too small for the leaves. The vines are then dragged along on the belt and soon come in contact with rollers several feet in diameter that are covered with sharp prongs that tear off the hops on the top side and the belt then passes over the same kind of rollers fastened below which clean the lower side. By the time the roller reaches the front of the machine, probably a distance of 40 feet, a powerful blowing machine separates the hops from the leaves and the hops drop through the mesh in the belt to another conveyor fastened below which finally passes in front of a large group of women who pick out the leaves and inferior hops as they pass by and drop this waste matter on another conveyor which carries it outside. The sorted hops are finally carried to the rear of the machine where they land in a large hopper at the bottom of which are two chutes where two men are kept busy filling the sacks that are then hauled to the dryer. It is noted the hops, after passing through all of these processes, are much cleaner than most of the hops that have been picked by hand. While going through this vigorous treatment the hops lose some of their pollen which is the richest part of them. This dust is also saved on another conveyor and then sacked.

Are Carried Away.

Another conveyor carries the stripped hop vines to the outside of the building and drops them. It is here noticed practically all the hops have been stripped, but a few leaves remain. It takes much more force to strip the leaves than it does the hops.

Forrest Hughes was in Lake county Sunday to see the Fair and enjoy a visit at the home of his father.

LATEST "TARZAN" THRILLER OPENS ON STATE SCREEN

Maureen O'Sullivan and Johnny Weissmuller in a scene from "Tarzan Finds a Son!"

Bringing with them a "Tarzan, Junior," Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan come to The State Theatre in "Tarzan Finds A Son!" fourth of the famous jungle romances based on Edgar Rice Burroughs' characters, Sunday and Monday.

What Tale Is.

In the new story they find a wrecked plane in the jungle, and rear the baby which is the only survivor. The role is played by five-year-old Johnny Sheffield, America's most amazing boy athlete, who played the child in "On Borrowed Time" on the New York stage. A safari reaches the jungle man and his mate, seeking traces of the plane, and the child becomes the center of a plot over a legacy due him. Tarzan refuses to give the boy up and Miss O'Sullivan is forced to trick her mate to send him back to civilization. A native tribe captures the party, Weissmuller rides to the rescue with an army of apes mounted on elephants, and a dramatic twist works out the problem.

Good Animal Acting.

Thrills include the routing of a torture orgy of savages by the ape cavalry, amazing underwater swimming and the rescue of the baby from a rhino. Cheeta, the almost human chimpanzee, provides comedy, as does Baby Bee, smallest baby elephant in the United States. Richard Thorpe, who directed "Tarzan Escapes," again directed and the cast includes Ian Hunter, Henry Stephenson, Frieda Inescort, Henry Wilcoxon, Laraine Day and Morton Lowry. Hundreds of "natives" and wild animals of every description are seen in the jungle thriller.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN THESE EVENTS TOOK PLACE IN UKIAH?

Out Of The Past Occurrences Brought To Mind By Reporter Of The Republican Press To Recall Old Times

(By Fred Loring)

Do you remember when most of the goods and services were exchanged on a barter basis in Mendocino county? During the last decade of the last century money was almost non-existent and, in order to live, people were compelled to exchange goods and services. Merchants, lawyers, doctors — even newspapermen—did this, for everybody else had to do it.

How It Was Done.

In those days ranchers traded their produce at the general merchandise stores for dry goods and groceries and when the value of the produce amounted to more than the value of the goods purchased they were given a credit slip which was also entered on the books. About the only real money received was that which was obtained from the surplus of farm products and meat animals that were sold in San Francisco. Some more real money was left here by city people who came here to pass their vacations. All of the real money the ranchers received had to be turned over to the county to pay taxes for the state laws had not provided for the exchange of goods and services. However, most of the ranchers worked out part of their taxes by doing road work.

People nowadays smile when they are told doctors and editors used to exchange their services for a turkey or cord of wood but this was actually the fact in those days. Right here in Ukiah we recall a prominent merchant who used to carry a large advertisement every week with the understanding it was to be "traded out." The editor gave his help an order on the store with which to make their purchases. At the end of the year a balance was struck and it generally came out about even. Farmers brought in cordwood, produce, butter and eggs, or what have you, and all accounts were squared that way. The newspapers received enough real money by doing advertising or job work for the county, for which they were paid in cash, to pay their San Francisco bills and taxes. This was also just as true of doctors and lawyers and everybody else.

Honesty Prevailed.

Do you remember when the people of Ukiah used to leave their homes for hours at a time and not lock their doors? In some of the homes the doors were not even locked at night and it was but very seldom anything was stolen.

Doors Left Open.

In the country this fashion was even more pronounced than in the towns and men who lived in cabins in the hills hung the latch string on the outside when they left home and were sometimes gone for several days at a time. A stranger passing that way always had the privilege of entering the cabin and preparing himself something to eat with what he could find and it was an unwritten law the stranger had to clean up the place before he left.

Origin Of Term.

Now about latch strings: So many of the younger people do not understand this expression it is well to explain it. In former days when roads were scarce there was but little lumber to be had and most of the cabins in the hills were built of logs, had a dirt floor and a large fireplace at one end in which residents did their cooking in large iron pots which were swung out over the fire. The frying pan was placed on an iron frame just above the coals. They had candles for light but the more aristocratic had a small kerosene lamp. The door was hung on primitive hinges, sometimes, and the door could be fastened from the inside by dropping a long wooden latch down over another contrivance built to receive it. There was a hole in the door just above the latch to which a rawhide string was attached and when the occupant left the door was closed and the latch string left hanging through a hole in the door. By pulling this string the latch was lifted and one could enter. This saying is still in common use but most people do not know what it means.

Some relics of a former generation are on display in front yards of homes on South State street between Seminary avenue and Mill street and the chances are only a few of our oldest people know they are there.

It Is A Relic.

Dr. L. G. Phillips has an old-fashioned cradle hanging on the limb of a tree in front of his home. A cradle is the implement that was used for cutting grain up to 100 years ago. It has a scythe blade at the bottom and some rake like prongs on top to make all the cut grain fall in one way. Following the cutting the grain was raked up and carried to a place where animals were made to tramp on it and the wheat then fell to the bottom. After this the straw was thrown up in the air during a strong wind and the chaff was blown away. This was the manner in which almost all grain was threshed up to 100 years ago.

Should Be Presented.

A little further down the street is the Holzhauser home in front of which are two of the old burrs that were used to make flour in the old Isbell mill. Such evidences of the long-ago method of providing the staff of life are too rare to hazard their being lost to future generations and an effort should be made to have them secured for the high school museum.

Love Affair Of City Girl Turns Out A Real Tragedy

A "vacation romance" which began at a Cobb Mountain resort near Clear Lake several weeks ago was ended for a broken-hearted San Francisco girl and a man "wanted" by the Los Angeles police.

A Check Passer.

While 19-year-old Shirley White remained in seclusion, Jack R. Usher, alias Harold Davis, was held in the Los Angeles jail on charges of non-support filed by his wife and passing fictitious checks filed by police.

Proved A Criminal.

The two met at Cobb Mountain where the girl was vacationing. Mr. Usher won her heart and they planned an elopment. After they had left for Yuma to be married, Miss White's sister found out who Mr. Usher was and the fact he was wanted by the police and already had a wife. When the girl called her sister to tell her how happy she was, the romance shattered.

He Was Here.

Mr. Usher was arrested by Los Angeles officials, while Miss White "just wants to forget the whole bad nightmare." Mr. Usher was about Ukiah several times while he was living in Lake county, but chance acquaintances here had no idea he was a check-passer or that he was then intent on trapping the unfortunate young woman.

OUT OF DANGER

Rudolph Brunner, young son of Attorney and Mrs. W. H. Brunner, was recently taken to Stanford Lane hospital, San Francisco, in a critical condition due to an intestinal disturbance and was brought home last week greatly improved.

Morris, one of the new members and a former resident of Eureka, had been assigned to prepare a feast which was out of the ordinary and through his connections in the northern city he secured several sacks of crabs. They were about the best crabs eaten here and the new member is now solid with the department.

Larson for passing another car on a blind curve. Guy Mason, of Mill Valley, was fined $20 after he pleaded guilty to being drunk on a public highway. Highway Patrolman Fred Hamilton made both arrests.

Work Of Incendiary.

A fire of incendiary origin was started in a warehouse in the rear of Dr. A. B. Guslander's place of business Wednesday night. Some excelsior from a packing box was stuck through the window and ignited but, fortunately, went out. The fire could not possibly have been started from electric wiring or exposed combustibles. The same night a spectacular fire burned over some dry grass in the rear of The Hotel Willits' electric light plant. Sparks from the exhaust are presumed to have been the cause.

Fell From Car.

Baby Stanley Requa, the 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Requa, of Oakland, received a fractured skull when the door of the auto in which he was riding opened and he fell out and struck his head on the pavement. The accident took place near Cummings and Mrs. Requa was driving and the child was standing in front of the seat. He was brought to Howard Memorial Hospital and at last reports would be ready to be taken home in a few days.

Classes Started.

Both the high and grammar schools opened their fall term this week with practically the same faculty as last year. The new Laytonville high school also opened.

Laborers Injured.

Charles Gesenger and Harry Kaplan, WPA workers employed on the Biggar highway and stationed at Camp Eel River, were struck by flying rock when a dynamite blast was discharged. Some boulders rolled down over their feet and made ugly cuts and bruises. They were brought to Howard Memorial Hospital where Dr. R. B. Smalley treated them.

Young Lady Marries.

Miss Arliss Lawrason, a former well known resident and student at the high school, was married to Howard Moody, of San Diego, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mabel Ranny, in San Francisco, Saturday night. The newlyweds will make their home in San Diego until next spring after which they will go to Honolulu.

Kansas Woman Dies.

Mrs. Albert Clay, 50, died at the hospital Monday following a major operation that had been performed a few days previous. Born in Kansas she came here with her parents about 30 years ago. Besides her husband she leaves two sisters and a stepmother to mourn her death.

Police Get Boost.

The city council has raised the salary of the police officers $10 a month and also several other city employes. The extra pay for the policemen comes out of the state liquor control funds and will not be paid by the city. All policemen are now state law enforcement officers.

Is A Benedict.

Russell Jones, manager of the J. C. Penney store, was married to Bertha Montieth at Red Bluff several months ago but the wedding was kept a secret until last week. Mrs. Jones will join her husband here this month and, of course, will be welcomed to our community. During his residence here Mr. Jones has made a large circle of friends and he has taken an active part in all civic undertakings.

Victim Of Accident.

A. Firenze, of San Francisco, shot himself in the index finger of the right hand while attempting to repair and adjust a 38-caliber revolver. He was passing his vacation in Long Valley and he was shooting at a target just before the accident took place. The bullet jammed and in trying to release it the revolver was discharged with the above result. Dr. R. B. Smalley dressed the wound.

To Better Service.

A survey of the Willits water system was made last week by a committee of firemen and citizens. The object was to make provision for better fire protection and the firemen and water company are working in harmony in order to get the best results.

Winter Coming!

Gualala's Activity Is Being Observed

Gualala is very much perked up as a result of its prospective lumbering activites. A small sawmill is being gotten in shape to saw timbers and other material for the main plant which it is planned to build.

Log Shortage Was Cause Of Shutdown

Because of a shortage of logs the mill at Juan creek was idle a few days last week. It was, perhaps just as well as most workers of the coast took a vacation for the John Bunyan celebration.

HAS GONE HOME

Miss Ida Smith, who has been visiting at the home of her brother, A. A. Smith, the past five weeks ,left for her home in Alabama Monday. Miss Smith was delighted with Mendocino county and what she has seen of California. This was the first time brother and sister had met for 20 years and naturally they had a wonderful visit.

ty blue and pink gifts were piled high, each guest brought a name, and twins were not forgotten. Mesdames Chas. Lovell, Henry Long and Miss Isabel Spurlock played two lullabies on guitars, Mrs. G. M. Biggar gave a reading. The hostess served cookies and punch.

Rubbed It In.

Tony Freitas, popular pitcher for the Solons, who recently had a heavy fine slapped on him for killing a pheasant out of season, was reminded of the incident last week at Sacramento. During a game between Oakland and Sacramento, Tony was presented a beautiful stuffed bird and, in fun, of course, a game warden appeared on the field and fined him $2.

Traveler Handicapped.

Wm. McDuffie landed at the airport Friday from Los Angeles on his way to Hull's Valley. Mr. McDuffie had just received word from his son, Malcolm "Bud" McDuffie, in England, who has been touring Europe with a party of boy friends and related having difficulties getting out of Germany. Due to present conditions, no gas was being sold. "Bud" will arrive home as soon as transportation can be arranged.

They Celebrated.

Beyond Summit Valley at Pine Flat a family reunion and big time was had Sunday by the O'Ferrall clan. The festive celebration was occasioned by the thirty-first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Long and the natal day of Mrs. Lloyd McCarthy. No need to mention the sumptuous feast prepared and spread by the heads of each household—a perfect day.

Taught Here Years Back.

Arriving last week from Brawley for a month's sojourn among old friends and relatives was Mrs. George Finley, who has not been in the valley for 10 years. She is a guest in the Sam Gray home. Mrs. Finley taught school her more than 40 years ago and reminded this writer she was living in the Jas. O'Ferrall home when the stork arrived. Yes, that was almost 40 years ago. A daughter-in-law, Mrs. Milton Finley drove her mother north but has returned to Los Angeles where she teaches.

KIDS-DOG-PIG MAKE TRINITY

Unique Combination May Be Puzzler At School Opening

A pig, a dog and several small boys who live on Main street are now having the grandest times every day playing in their front yard and the street or an adjacent vacant lot. They chase each other and romp until they are tired out and then all lie down together on the grass to rest up. Sometimes the pig and dog take turns chasing each other and at still other times they can be seen eating together.

And Then—What!

The boys have named their pet pig "Pinkie" and he is never confined in a pen or yard and has all the privileges the dog has and the boys do not discriminate when it comes to petting them. "Pinkie" is a very well behaved pig and goes wherever the boys do. When school starts one wonders whether he will follow the example of Mary's little lamb which we heard so much of in childhood's days. In that case Ukiah will become famous almost over night.

Dr. Raymond A. Babcock was here Saturday on court matters and planned going to Fort Bragg to take in the Paul Bunyan celebration Sunday and Monday.
